

AUTO SPILLED,
ONE KILLEDWhile Herbert H. Lythe is Dangerously Hurt

ACCIDENT IN AUTO DERBY

John Bates, Mechanician for Lythe, Was Caught Under Ditched Car and Died an Hour Later—A Record
Smashed.

Riverhead, L. I., Sept. 29.—Louis Chevrolet in a Buick automobile won the class B race of 113 1/2 miles over the new Suffolk automobile course to-day. He averaged 68 1/2 miles an hour, thus establishing a new American road average. Class B was composed of cars which sold between $1,251 and $2,000, and there were five entries, H. J. Dodge in a Chalmers-Detroit, Elmer Gerald in a Buick, A. S. Ritter in a Buick, Bob Durman in a Buick, and Louis Chevrolet in a Buick. The race was five laps.

While the day was successful in having one record smashed, the pleasure of the day was spoiled by a fatality. While running better than seventy miles an hour in a practice spin, an Apperson automobile driven by Herbert H. Lythe, who was entered in class E, was ditched. Lythe was thrown fifty feet, while John Bates, his mechanic, was caught under the car. Bates' skull was fractured and his legs were broken. He died an hour after the accident. Lythe now lies in a dangerous condition.

Thus the dedication of a new automobile speedway was decorated with blood. The races were the Long Island Stock Car Derby and they attracted a large crowd of people. Lythe only yesterday declared himself satisfied with the course and he said that the winners would have to go better than sixty miles an hour.

The Derby was closed to anything but stock cars, as they are rated under the American Automobile association definition. The five divisions, the distances and prize classifications, follow: class A, for cars selling at $2,001 to $2,500, distance 5 laps, or 113 1/2 miles; class B, for cars selling at $1,251 to $2,000, distance 5 laps, or 113 1/2 miles; class C, for cars selling at $751 to $1,250, distance 5 laps, or 113 1/2 miles; class D, for cars selling at $501 to $750, distance 5 laps, or 113 1/2 miles; class E, for cars selling at $251 and over, distance 10 laps, or 227 1/2 miles.

PENNANT WAS FORCED
ON PITTSBURG TEAMBy No Hook or Crook Can Any Team
Wrest the National League Championship from Smoky City
Boys.

Pittsburg, Sept. 29.—The National league pennant was forced on Pittsburg yesterday by Chicago losing, and not by any good work of the home team, which played a very bad game with New York here. Should Chicago win every game from now until the close of the season and Pittsburg lose every game it plays, the home team would still be in the lead at the close of the season by half a game. Manager Fred Clarke was presented $600 in gold raised by the fans.

HARD SMASH IN STOMACH.

Ended the Dixie Kid's Pugilistic Aspirations
Against Langford.

Boston, Sept. 29.—A hard left smash into the stomach sent the Dixie Kid flying across the ring and into his corner doubled up with pain. The fight, scheduled 12-round bout between the Kid and Sam Langford last evening, Langford entered the ring in anything but good condition as it was plain that he was over weight, and the fight had not been on more than one round before it was easy to see that his wind was bad. The Dixie Kid was much lighter, but by clever ducking and blocking, he managed to avoid a good many hard blows that Sam started in his direction. The final smash came in the fifth round.

BANK EMPLOYEE

Brigham, a former bookkeeper for the Merchants National bank was sentenced to five years in prison at Albany by Judge Platt of the United States district court today on the charge of false entries in bank books. He pleaded guilty. The other charge of misappropriation of $92,909 was dropped, Brigham having restored $87,000.

SEEK A DISTRIBUTION.

Home For Destitute Children of Burlington One of The Plaintiffs.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 29.—In the United States circuit court yesterday, Judge Colt gave a hearing in the case of the Home for Destitute Children of Burlington, Vt., and others against the Peter Bent Brigham hospital and others. The complainants were represented by Charles A. Snow and Joseph H. Knight, while J. L. Thorndike appeared for the defendants.

The suit is brought by persons claiming under the will to be some of the heirs and next of kin of Peter B. Brigham, who died May 21, 1877, praying for a declaration that the trusts of his will for applying his residuary estate to the founding of a hospital in Boston are old on the ground principally of perpetuity, and for a distribution of the residuary estate, accordingly, the plaintiffs claiming one-fifth and one-fifth of it, respectively. The P. B. Brigham hospital was incorporated on May 8, 1903, and by legislative act was authorized to acquire and hold property to an amount not exceeding $5,000,000.

The plaintiff's contentions are that the trust for founding the hospital was contingent upon some event that might not happen at all until the expiration of 25 years from the testator's death, and that the trust was therefore void for remoteness. That if the equitable title to the property vested for charitable purposes at the testator's death, it could so vest only to the capacity of $500,000; that such a corporation as the defendant corporation would have had under the general laws, if it had been formed, then or if such title vested in the corporation when it was actually formed in 1903, then it vested only to the extent of $1,500,000, the capacity that it then had under the laws, and in either case that the right to the excess vested in the testator's heirs at law, and next of kin, and that the act authorizing the defendant corporation to take property to the amount of $5,000,000 deprived them of their property without due process of law.

For Seven Minutes This Forenoon
Curtis Also Went Up For a Brief Time.

New York, Sept. 29.—Under ideal weather conditions, Wilbur Wright made his first solo aeroplane flight of the Hudson-Fulton celebration. His machine made a giant circle across the lower portion of the East river, thence across Governor's Island, and the shores of Bedloe's Island, the flight occupying seven minutes. Previously Glenn Curtiss tried a brief spin but did not go over the water. The flights were but a prelude for more extended trials tomorrow.

AN ARREST MADE.

Philadelphia Police Think They Are Clearing Up Shooting Mystery.

Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—In the arrest last night of Reuben Conn, the detectives believe they have solved the mysterious hold-up and double murder which occurred Monday night in the saloon of Patrick J. Quinn in the northern section of the city. Three men were shot by the masked robber, two of whom have since died.

The dead men are Henry S. Taylor, aged 25 years, a bookkeeper for a manufacturing firm, who lived at Oak Lane, a suburb about two miles from the scene of the hold-up, and James Quinn, aged 23, an elevator constructor, who was acting as bartender in the absence of his father and elder brother. The wounded man is John J. Cassidy, aged 37 years. He is in a hospital suffering with a bullet wound in the leg. After emptying the cash register the robber fled.

Conn denies that he knows anything of the shooting and says that he did not return to the saloon after leaving 15 minutes before the shooting occurred.

BURIED ALIVE
IN A TRENCHThree Workmen Victims at at New Haven, Conn.

BODIES NOT RECOVERED

Hundreds of People Worked Desperately
All Night to Reach the Buried
Men—Identity of Victims
Not Known.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 29.—Although a frenzied attempt was made all night to dig them out, the three men who were buried alive in the tunnel of the New Haven water company at Woodbridge last night have not been reached, and it is probable that they have perished even if they were not crushed to death when the earth first raved in on them as they were at work. The rescue party was composed of a hundred of their fellow-workmen and others, but the efforts have thus far been of no avail. The identity of the three victims of the cave-in is not known. About the only information at present available is that two of them were white men and the other a negro. Hope or reaching them alive has been given up.

BURIED IN WRECKAGE.

Conductor Lator of Rutland Badly Injured in Collision.

Rutland, Sept. 29.—Conductor Edward J. Lator of this city was injured yesterday, being a miraculous escape from death, in a head-on collision between a southbound freight train and a northbound milk train at Salem, N. Y., on the D. & H. railroad. For some reason the freight ran over a switch and met the incoming train of a curve near the depot. The cow catchers of both engines were smashed and the front of the milk train was demolished. Conductor Lator was on the front platform of this car and was so buried in wreckage that it took an hour to get him out. His injuries include a broken rib, sprained ankle and had bruises which developed into internal injuries. Fireman King of Salem received a scalp wound.

A POLITICAL CHARLATAN.

Declares Jerome of Gynor, Possible Candidate for Mayor of New York.

New York, Sept. 29.—District Attorney Jerome, who is making an independent fight for re-election at the approaching municipal elections, issued a statement last night attacking Justice William J. Gaynor, a candidate for the mayoralty, whose friends believe he will be the Tammany nominee. He has already been endorsed by several independent Democratic organizations.

Mr. Jerome described Justice Gaynor as a "political charlatan," and as "that most abhorrent product, a political jobber, whose so-called personal liberty decisions have served as a protection to law-breakers."

The statement says in part:

"The people of the city ought to wake up to the political situation. They are approaching the most important election ever held in the city and yet show no interest except in the north pole and the Hudson-Fulton exhibition."

"In the face of the clear opposition of all the decent elements of the Democratic party, who control the nominating machinery of the party are about to force the nomination of a man who has been shown utterly destitute of political courage, and whose erratic ability is tinged with a morbidness almost akin to mental un-soundness. I cannot stomach William J. Gaynor and I cannot see selfish and desperate men force him upon the party. What I can do to defeat them I shall do."

CASE OF "SOUL GRAPES."

Is Reported to Be Reason For Jerome's
Attacks Today.

New York, Sept. 29.—What promises to be the most spectacular campaign in the history of the city opened with a bitter assault by District Attorney Jerome upon Justice William Gaynor, Chas. F. Murphy and Daniel F. Cohalan, the leaders of Tammany Hall. It is generally accepted today that Gaynor turned down the friends of Jerome, who asked that the justice use his influence to have the district attorney endorsed by Tammany. It is thought that the situation will result in a display of oratorical pyrotechnics during the coming weeks which have been unknown in previous campaigns.

BRUTAL MURDER WITH AXE.

Hungarian Shoemaker in Rochester
Charged With Killing Wife.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 29.—John Klema, a Hungarian shoemaker, has in custody here charged with the brutal murder of his wife with an axe about midnight Monday night, after he had attempted criminally to assault his 14-year-old step daughter, Hannah, as alleged by the child. The cause of the murder is said to be trouble about money matters and the conduct of the father towards the child. Hannah, Klema is about 44 years of age and the dead woman was 34.

On the return of the woman and the eldest child, Hannah, home Monday night the father and mother quarreled, and Hannah, who heard her mother scream, says she saw her father enter his bedroom with an axe. Klema, she says, ordered her to her own room, he then crashed in his wife's head with blows from the axe, in the sight of four of the five children.

Klema was captured about twelve o'clock yesterday in Seneca park. He offered no resistance. Some doubt as to the man's sanity is entertained.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.

In Case of Fair Haven Man Whose Body
Was Found in Quarry.

Rutland, Sept. 29.—A secret investigation was conducted by State's Attorney J. C. Jones, assisted by Deputy Sheriff Pascal Ricci of this city, John H. Polley of Fair Haven, into the death of Domenico Aldachiaro, a foreigner, whose body was found in 30 feet of water in the abandoned, Non-Such slate quarry, where he was sent to do some work on Thursday of last week. An autopsy on the body was performed by Dr. B. H. Stone of the state laboratory of hygiene at Burlington with his assistants.

Aldachiaro was last seen on Thursday morning when he left the quarry No. 1 of the Unifield Green slate company, a short distance southwest of Fair Haven to dig a ditch beside the abandoned quarry. His coat and dinner pail were left at the quarry. His pick, which he was using in the digging of the ditch was found near by, but his shovel was missing. The fresh dirt where he had last worked was within three feet of the edge of the quarry and it was at first supposed that he slipped on the day mud into the water and drowned.

Although no official statement was given out following the autopsy it is understood that no water was found in the lungs and this to some extent has started the investigation.

Aldachiaro was sent to Fair Haven from this city three years ago at the time of the famous slate strike in Fair Haven but there is none of the old feeling against strike breakers in that town at this time. It was very few years ago in the general opinion that another of his countrymen was mixed up in the deal.

AHEAD OF THE GAME.

Northfield Fair Managers Successful in Spite of One Rainy Day.

Northfield, Sept. 29.—A meeting of the directors of the Deer River Valley fair association was held in Northfield Monday, when the matter of adjusting premiums and all accounts incident to the recent fair was taken up and adjusted.

While the exact figures are not available the directors said that the association is something like $300 to the good. More money was put into premiums, races, special attractions and advertising this year than ever before and had the last day been favored with good weather the attendance would have been a great record breaker. Notwithstanding the rain of the last day the gate receipts were only little short of last year in which splendid weather conditions prevailed all three days.

Everything considered, the management is to be congratulated upon the outcome of the fair financially and in every other respect.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the association will be held Tuesday, October 26.

RITIOUS SOLDIERS.

Filipino Women.

Winslow, Sept. 29.—Privates Alston and Hunter from Fort Ethel Allen were arrested at the police yesterday morning by Officer Horton for riotous conduct on Canal street Monday evening. They were taken to the county jail and will be tried in Burlington city court today. The men broke into the house occupied by Mrs. White and Mrs. Kling, Filipino wives of soldiers participating in the Hudson-Fulton celebration at Albany, and creating general havoc. Several stones were thrown through the windows, narrowly missing the children sleeping on the floor, and one of the men gave Mrs. King a hard blow on the head. Finally, frightened by the screams of the women, they fled toward the fort.

TRAINMEN

B. & M. Wreck

RAILS WERE SLIPPERY

Cars Piled Up at Union, N. H., Last Night and One Engine Was Almost Completely Demolished.

Union, N. H., Sept. 29.—Wet and slippery rails on a down grade caused a freight wreck at the siding near this station on the Conway division of the Boston & Maine about 6 o'clock last evening.

While a long extra freight under the charge of conductor Sawyer was taking the siding to allow the regular night train from Sanbornville to Boston to pass, the latter came down the grade at high speed, the brakes refusing to hold, and plunged into the extra, then half way onto the siding.

The engines and fireman of the locomotive jumped in time to save themselves. The locomotive, after shattering several cars of the extra, was derailed, a total wreck. Eight cars of the two trains were piled up, the extra train sustaining the greatest car loss.

The only person injured was a brakeman of the extra train, who sprained his knee in jumping. The crew in the caboose of each train was shaken up by the collision.

It is stated that conductor Sawyer sent a brakeman ahead to flag the regular and that the engineer of the latter answered the signal and applied the brakes. The grade is quite steep there and on a curve, and the wet rails made it impossible to stop the heavily loaded train of nearly 20 cars.

Dan Horne was conductor of the down train. The road was blocked by the accident. The passenger train from Boston to Wolfboro and North Conway, due here at 7, was held back and the passengers, baggage and mail were transferred to a train run down from Sanbornville.

Wrecking trains from Rochester and Portsmouth were sent here soon after the accident and the line was cleared by morning.

STRANGE CASE OF SHOOTING.

Man Shot as He Looked to See What Previous Shots Meant.

Haverhill, Mass., Sept. 29.—Morris Betschelski leaped out of his window at 308 South street, this city, last night upon hearing three revolver shots in the street. Just then the fourth shot cracked out in the darkness and rain and Betschelski fell back on the floor with a bullet in his head.

At the Hale hospital Dr. C. O. Carden, who attended the man, said he would never. Although he has not removed the bullet it has apparently not penetrated Betschelski's skull, but is lodged beneath the skin of the man's head. Doctor thought it was of 32 calibre and from a rim-fire cartridge.

He is 30 years old and married. He works in one of the leather factories of the city.

At 10:30 Betschelski was sitting in his parlor with his wife, when he heard shooting in the street. He raised the window and put his head out to see what was going on. Instantly the fourth shot sounded, and Betschelski fell to the floor.

The wife rushed shrieking from the room, and the neighbors came in almost as quickly. Somebody notified the police by telephone, and the Hale hospital ambulance was sent.

BODY RECOVERED.

No Evidence of Foul Play in Death of Concord, N. H., Man.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 29.—The body of Edward G. Shattuck, the South End man who was supposed to have been drowned in the Merrimack river last Thursday, was recovered by the police yesterday afternoon and turned over to Undertakers Kendall & Foster. It was viewed by the medical examiner and no evidence of foul play there discovered.

The body of Shattuck, who had been missing from home since last Friday afternoon, was seen floating down the river in the rear of his home on Water street by members of the family. The police were notified at once and Police-men Wallace and Batchelder were sent down in the police boat to recover it. If possible, the body was found late in the afternoon opposite the Passaconaway club house over a mile below where it was first seen.

Shattuck was 45 years old, and had been employed a long time by the Concord Ice company. The last three weeks he had been laid up and unable to work because of an injury to his hand. It was understood that he had been drinking considerable late week, and a partially filled quart bottle of whiskey was found on the river bank Sunday afternoon near where Shattuck's cap was found. A wife and one daughter survive.

PLAINTIFF'S WIFE
A GOOD WITNESSBut It Is in the Interests of the Defendant That She Testifies in Alienation Suit in County Court.

Mrs. John Livingstone, wife of the plaintiff in the alienation suit of Livingstone vs. John Small, proved to be the defense's best witness during the trial in Washington county court to-day, and her testimony was not shaken by Attorney John Senter in cross-examination. The defendant went on the stand shortly before recess and he told of the great familiarity between his wife and Mrs. Livingstone, how they visited back and forth. He resumed the stand this afternoon.

E. L. Taylor was brought before the court yesterday afternoon on the charge of adultery, and bail was fixed at $500, which was furnished. He was arrested on an indictment.

The attorney in the Foxle vs. McDonald, Cutler & Co. negligence suit were present in court this morning to hear about juror Forest Tibbets of Cabot, whose illness halted the case just as it was about to go to the jury. His physician reported that Mr. Tibbets was suffering from nervous exhaustion, but the other jurors say he has jaundice. The date for the resumption of the case is uncertain.

At two o'clock this afternoon Judge Waterman adjourned court until three out of respect to the late ex-Gov. Charles J. Bell, whose funeral was held this afternoon at Walden. Judge Waterman spoke a few words in eulogy of the late governor, saying that the adjournment was taken in recognition of one of the state's best citizens.

These examinations will be held next week at the county court house commencing Tuesday morning, the opening day of the October term of supreme court, and continuing through Wednesday and Thursday. The successful applicants will be admitted in the supreme court room Friday morning. The class is unusually large this year.

VOTED FOR DELEGATES.

Barre Granite Cutters Did Not Cast a Very Heavy Ballot.

The members of Barre branch, Granite Cutters' International association, held a continuation of their regular monthly meeting at Miles hall last evening from four until eight o'clock to allow the members to vote for delegates from the association to the American Federation of Labor convention to be held in Toronto, Ontario, in November.

The attendance was extremely small, there being but 204 ballots cast. The members were instructed on the ballots to vote for two of the 61 names which appeared thereon, but many of them failed to do so, as there were but a total of only 313 names crossed.

James McAdam, the candidate nominated by Barre branch, was far in the lead with 173 votes, and James Mutch, who was nominated by the Barre tool sharpeners, was next with 36. Herman Champen of Cleveland, Ohio, had 16, Isaac Comb of New York 14, A. M. May of Haverhill 30, Ernest Leveson of Vancouver, B. C. 12, and the remainder were divided in small numbers among the remaining candidates. Mr. McAdam had but about one half the number of votes that was cast for the Barre candidate in the local branch last year.

TO SUPPORT TEAMSTERS.

Barre Central Labor Union Resolves to Aid Its Latest Child.

The formation of a local of the Teamsters' International union in the city of Barre was reported at the last regular meeting of the Central Labor union of Barre and vicinity, which will make 18 local unions of as many international unions affiliated with the C. L. U.

The following resolution was adopted at the C. L. U. meeting, with the purpose of helping the members of the newly organized local of teamsters:

"Whereas, it has been demonstrated that the teamsters of Barre do not get the support that they are entitled to, through the neglect and carelessness of seventy per cent of the trades unionists, and

"Whereas, it has been proven that where the teamsters of any locality are properly organized they have been a power to the labor movement; be it

Resolved, that the Central Labor union, now assembled, does hereby pledge its support and that all organizations affiliated be notified to instruct their members to demand the dues book stamped in full of all teamsters when having anything carried to or from their homes."

A. R. Lane, who is building the new school building on Camp street, stated to the council that work on the building was being held up by reason of the unsettled sewer question.

WANT TO PLAN
A NEW BLOCKSo Aldrich Trustees Ask City
to Make

THE PROPOSED TRANSFER

Holders of the National Bank Corner
Property on Main Street Have Found
They Have a Right to Swap with the City.

That the Aldrich library trustees are planning to erect a new building on their property at the corner of Main and Elm streets where the old National bank building now stands as early next year as possible was brought out at the regular meeting of the board of aldermen last evening, when N. D. Phelps, a member of the trustees, appeared before the board and stated that through later developments the trustees had found out that they had the right to go ahead without any instructions from the courts and carry out the proposed exchange of land with the city in order to make the new building on a straight line with the Wood block.

This question was brought up by the trustees over a year ago, and it was then thought that the trustees would have to get a court's opinion as to whether the trustees had a right to make an exchange of the land, but it is now settled that the trustees have the power and Mr. Phelps wanted the city to decide as soon as possible whether they would agree to the exchange of land.

The trustees wish to deed to the city a strip of land on the Main street side of the property for the vacant corner on the Elm street side in front of the Economic store, so that they can swing their proposed new building around straight with front of the Wood block. Mr. Phelps stated that the trustees were anxious to have this matter settled as quickly as possible so that they could make their plans for beginning operations the first thing in the spring.

On motion of Alderman Campbell, the matter was referred to a committee of the whole to meet on the ground and investigate the situation. Building permits were ordered granted to Eastman Brothers to extend the show window of the Mascott candy kitchen store out two feet and eight inches, even with the windows in the Quinlan block, and to Barton, Hayes & Bancroft to reshingle their storehouse.

Alderman Thurston reported that a chicken owned by Leon Carroll had been killed by dogs and that three other chickens had been disabled for life. On motion of Alderman Alexander it was voted to pay Mr. Carroll 50 cents for the dead chick.

The city clerk reported that the auditor of the Travelers' Liability Insurance company had been to his office looking over the different pay rolls and in the street department and contrary to the company's custom ever since the city had a policy with them they had objected to the amounts paid for team hire being taken out of the pay roll.
